Continuing Education Workshop & Truss Testing Demonstration

Friday, November 4 • Noon • Tampa

1 Inspection of Connector Installations

This 1-hour Continuing Education Credit course, developed by Simpson Strong-Tie, will focus on truss to truss as well as truss to wall connections.

2 Building Code Update

This 1-hour Continuing Education Credit course, also developed by Simpson Strong-Tie, will review upcoming changes to the Florida Building Code that affect our industry.

3 Testing a Truss to the Limit

Do you know what it takes to cause a truss failure? We will test a floor truss with a plumbing repair to demonstrate the load needed to break this structural building component.

4 Lunch

We'll kick off with lunch on us, courtesy of BlueLinx, ITW Building Components Group, Simpson Strong-Tie, Weyerhaeuser and WFTA.

5 Prizes

Drawings will be held for door prizes, and the person with the winning guess on the testing demonstration will win a prize, too.

Information offered by WFTA

Inspection of Connectors / Building Code Update

These presentations provide general, building and residential contractors, building officials and inspectors, architects and engineers a better understanding of structural wood connectors and their relationship with engineered wood products. They will help the student better understand the need for choosing the correct hanger or hold-down based on design limitations as well as load factors. Topics covered include:

- Truss hanger inspections;
- Truss to wall and truss to truss connections;
- Composite Structural Lumber considerations; and
- Updates to the Florida Building Code.

Together, these courses will provide 2 hours of continuing education credit.

Educational Literature

Pertinent educational materials and publications will be provided from SBCA, WFTA, and event sponsors including ITW Building Components Group, Simpson Strong-Tie Co., Structural Connections, Inc., USP Structural Connectors, Weyerhaeuser, and more!
